LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

SUGAR is 34, an advance of 1-16 over previous advices.

FOREIGN LAURE J. Ryan, of the Australia, is thanked for news favors.

THE Austro-Hungarian corvette Fasana is connected with Mutual Telephone, No. 216.

THE case of embezzlement against H. F. Poor has again been postponed until Tuesday next.

THE band will play at the Hawaiian Hotel this evening for the benefit of the Australia's passengers.

MASTER J. H. Wilson, son of Marshal Wilson, was a passenger by the Australia to-day, on a vacation.

THE tramcars carried 10,000 people on the 11th of June, the largest previous number in one day having been 8000.

MASTER Arthur Mackintosh arrived home from school on a short vacation this morning, looking the picture of health.

THE water at the Long Branch baths, Waikiki, is now in lovely condition, and large bathing parties go out nightly.

THE sale of the house of Government land at Koolauloa, Oahu, will take place to-morrow at noon, at the front entrance of Aliipahai Hale.

THE U. S. S. Boston has been ordered to Honolulu to relieve the U. S. S. San Francisco, and will be expected here some time this month.

MR. Chas. L. Hopkins will act as Police Justice during the absence of Judge Wm. Foster on Hawaii. Judge Foster left on the Hall this morning.

THE four-masted schooner Aloha and the brigantine W. G. Irwin sailed from San Francisco on June 6th for this port. Before leaving the captains agreed on an ocean race.

FATHER Hermann Schradt, a young German priest, arrived by to-day's steamer to join the Catholic mission. There has been no appointment as yet to the vacant Bishopric.

OTTO ANDERSON, a union sailor, was killed in a fight between union and non-union men on board the Hawaiian bark S. C. Allen at San Francisco. The union men tried to burn and sink the vessel.

MANAGER Johnson and the guests of the Hotel are looking happy—the new French cooks have arrived, and visions of nice little dinners are already floating before the guests and their friends.

THE S. F. Morning Call of June 7th says: "The barkentine S. G. Wilder is now owned by a company recently incorporated under the laws of the State called the S. G. Wilder Co. Captain A. H. Paul is the president."

A NUMBER of the racing stock which participated in the 11th of June races will be taken on the Claudine this evening for Maui, so that they may be put into trim for the 4th of July races at Kaula.

A. B. KERR and F. G. Townsend, arrested yesterday, stand charged with selling goods without a license at Ewa. These are the men who left abruptly on Dr. J. S. McGrew's yacht. Their trial will take place to-morrow.

Much amusement has been caused about town by the appearance in the San Francisco Chronicle of a portrait of Hon. A. S. Wilcox labeled "Robert W. Wilcox." It is supposed the Chronicle stole the picture from the "seventy immortals" of the Pacific Commercial Record.

A PETITION to the Legislature is in circulation, asking that the Government find employment for Mr. Melvin Smyth, who had his left hand maimed in an electric light accident, while in the Government employ, July, 1889. Mr. Smyth has proved himself a capable overseer in road building, but is now out of employment.

MR. Seymour Cunningham and bride were passengers by the Australia to-day. The bride was formerly Miss Stephanie Whitney, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. George Whitney of Oakland, Cal., and Mr. Cunningham hails from Washington, D. C. The marriage took place in Oakland the day previous to the steamer's sailing for Honolulu.

THE new chief cook, Leon Mather, and his assistant (a French pastry cook), who have been engaged for the Hotel, arrived by the Australia to-day and will commence their duties to-morrow. The new chef was selected by Mr. Kinkler, the manager of the new California Hotel, and steward James of the Australia says he is a dandy at French cooking.

A WRIT of habeas corpus is pending in San Francisco for the release of Illinois Wise, who is held to answer for the murder of a Chinaman in Honolulu harbor. The judge who should hear the writ had left the city, and there was uncertainty as to the date of a hearing. It is reported the colored Masons of San Francisco are doing everything possible to free Wise.

THERE was a fight on the 4-masted schooner Robert Lowers last night, between H. D. St. Clair, the first mate, and Gus Dorvis, a sailor. St. Clair had his head cut and Dorvis had his arm lacerated. Two policemen answered a call from the vessel and arrested Dorvis, who was fined $25 for assault and battery. He has not money in hand to pay his fine, and will be paid off from the Lowers before that vessel sails this afternoon.

THE manager of the Paradise of the Pacific has received a letter from the San Francisco office of the Oceanic Steamship Co., stating that the trouble threatened in Hawaii had had a reactionary influence on intended tourists for the mid-ocean Kingdom. The suggestion was advanced that an increased edition of the outstanding number, if distributed broadcast throughout San Francisco, would have a very beneficial effect. Mr. H. Williams of this city who attends the Knight Templars Conclave at Denver, Colo., will be provided with large numbers of this local advertiser of the Islands, for distribution.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS.

(San Francisco, June 7, per S. S. Australia.)

UNITED STATES.

THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

MORAT Halstead, the famous editor, is writing special despatches from Minneapolis to the Chronicle. In one he says he claims to be an expert in national conventions, as he began that special service in 1856, reporting the Buchanan convention in Cincinnati and the Fremont convention in Philadelphia. With all his experience, however, he has never met with anything like the honest and hard-headed disputes, now going on at Minneapolis, as to the standing of the delegations of the several States with respect to candidates in the Republican convention.

A press despatch says the Blaine men have won the preliminary skirmish and will control the organization of the convention.

The Harrison advocates have never stopped working for an instant and claim to have absolute confidence in their ability to nominate Harrison on the first ballot, but the figures given out are not those looked up in headquarters. They are deceiving and are in many cases juggled about so as to deceive the other side with respect to the standing of several States.

A State politician, however, who has spent two days in making a canvass, says that he cannot find more than 425 votes for Harrison on the first ballot, and that, he says, is liberal. Senator Hansbrough, who is considered a good guesser, says that by to-night the Harrison boom will have evaporated and that the selection of a Blaine temporary chairman, when it is accomplished, will take the starch out of the President's friends and they will be unable to fix on a third man.

The Harrison men have not taken pains to deny stories that they lost during yesterday and that Blaine has gained. They said in a general way that they were stronger than ever last night, but when confronted with a poll of the States they said the figures were "cooked to order." Perhaps they were, but there is no doubt in the cases of Illinois and Virginia, where great and unexpected gains were made. Cullom's defeat for temporary chairman makes the case of Illinois still more alarming for the supporters of the administration, as it is difficult to keep a following for a beaten man. The only gain mentioned for Harrison is three in Kansas, where there are several good Federal positions soon to be given out.

BLAINE RESIGNS FROM THE SECRETARSHIP OF STATE.

Secretary Blaine tendered his resignation to the President on June 4, in the following letter:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, D. C., June 4, '92.
To the President:

I respectfully beg leave to submit my resignation of the office of Secretary of State of the United States, to which I was appointed by you on the 5th of March, 1889. The condition of public business in the Department of State justifies me in requesting that my resignation may be accepted immediately.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
JAMES G. BLAINE.

To this the President made the following reply:

Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., June 4, 1892.—To the Secretary of State: Your letter of this date tendering your resignation of the office of Secretary of State of the United States has been received. The terms in which you state your desires are such as to leave me no choice but to accede to your wishes at once. Your resignation is therefore accepted. Very respectfully yours,
BENJAMIN HARRISON.

To Hon. James G. Blaine.

From undeniable authority some interesting facts connected with the resignation are gleaned. They show that the President was as greatly surprised as anybody, and had no knowledge whatever of Mr. Blaine's contemplated action before reading the Secretary's letter. It appears that Congressman Boutelle of Maine called at Mr. Blaine's house the previous evening before leaving for Minneapolis, and the two remained closeted until within fifteen minutes of the time of the departure of the train. What was said is not known, but this much has been ascertained: On the way to the train Boutelle stopped his cab at the telegraph office and sent a telegram to Charles Littlefield, chairman of the Maine delegation, as follows: "It's all right—Blaine will accept."

MCKINLEY THE DARK HORSE.

There are a few men in Minneapolis—not the greatest politicians it is true, but still of considerable influence—who have been secretly working for the abandonment of both Blaine and Harrison and the substitution of one of their own names. Deep down under the surface McKinley has been much talked of, his name finding great favor in administration quarters.

The men there like McKinley for what he said when he came out for Harrison, and if the latter must step off the track they would like to see the great protectionist take his place. This has been taken advantage of by his close personal friends, and they are trying to put in motion a McKinley boom that can be openly launched when the proper moment arrives.

Quiet canvasses by the Illinois delegation have been made, with the result that very unexpectedly many delegates from all parts of the country have signified their willingness to vote for Ohio's Governor after the second ballot if it can be shown that neither of the present leaders can win.

FIRST BLOOD FOR BLAINE.

At the meeting of the national committee last night the Harrison men made a fight on Fassett and were defeated. The result of the vote for temporary chairman was: Fassett, 26, Cullom 21, so that Fassett will be the temporary chairman of the convention.

The election of Fassett is considered a test of the relative strength of the Blaine and Harrison forces in the committee, and in the election of Fassett Blaine secured the initial advantage.

Fassett received the votes of the following States: Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, New York, Wisconsin and the District of Columbia—33.

For Cullom—Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Virginia, Washington and Wyoming—16.

The national committee paid California two compliments by electing M. H. de Young its secretary and by the selection of George Lee of San Francisco as one of the secretaries of the convention. He is third on the list.

NEW YORK DEMOCRACY FOR HILL.

The New York delegates to the Democratic national convention met last evening and adopted a resolution, by a vote of sixty-nine to one, that they would present the name of Senator Hill as a candidate, and vote for him until nominated or as long as he permit his name to be used. The meeting adjourned to meet at Chicago on Friday preceding the convention.

AN AWFUL DISASTER.

The oil regions of Pennsylvania were visited on the 5th inst. by a disaster of fire and water only eclipsed by the memorable flood of Johnstown. While Titusville and Oil City were flooded from overflowing streams, together with the bursting of a dam, the Crescent Oil refinery took fire, and the flames spread with fearful rapidity. Fire broke out in other refineries at different points. The water that submerged populous parts of the towns, as well as the streams, were thickly coated with oil. This oil taking fire spread the flames far and wide, and men, women and children fleeing from fire were lost in the flood.

The following summary of the dire results of the disaster prefaces the latest despatches from the stricken district in the Chronicle:

A search of twenty-four hours in the stricken oil region has further revealed the awful work of the flood and fire. Conservative estimates now place the loss of life at Titusville at 100 and at Oil City at 150. Property to the amount of $2,000,000 was destroyed at Titusville, while Oil City suffered damage to the extent of over $1,000,000—a total death list of 250 and a financial loss of $3,000,000. At midnight fifty-six bodies had been recovered at Titusville and sixty-seven at Oil City. Hundreds are still engaged in the gruesome task of rescuing the dead from the wreckage of buildings and the still angry waters, but there are scores who have found nameless graves in the river and whose bodies will never be recovered. Pennsylvania has responded to the appeal for aid sent out from the suffering cities, and the destitute will receive every attention and comfort that money can obtain.

The fire that led to the terrible destruction of life and property at Titusville and along the river was caused, it has been learned, by a spark from a locomotive. Mechanic street, occupied by the poorer classes for residences, was simply blotted out of existence. Not the vestige of a dwelling is left standing. The greatest loss of life occurred there. The fire and flood were so swift that whole families were swept away before they realized their danger. The volume of the flood was greatly increased by the breaking of dams at Riceville and Spartansburg.

ITEMS.

It is reported that Rev. Sheldon Jackson, Commissioner of Education for Alaska, was murdered at Juneau by liquor smugglers whom he and two native officers had arrested. The report lacks confirmation. Jackson is well-known as a missionary and a writer on Alaska.

F. B. McCleery, the well-known billiard player of San Francisco, with whom Jake Schaefer played and scored a continuous run of 3000 points straight rail billiards in May, 1890, is dying in Chicago. McCleery went to Chicago to witness the Ives-Slosson match on May 21st. McCleery is well known in Honolulu, where he gave exhibitions of his skill and lessons in billiards a few years ago.

EUROPE.

Peter Jackson, the colored boxer, knocked Frank P. Slavin out in the tenth round. The fight took place in London at midnight of May 30. Slavin was terribly punished. He lay as if dead after being knocked in a heap. Lord Lansdale opened the proceedings with a speech, and many titled sports were present. Among the spectators are mentioned Col. North, "Buffalo Bill," and Furniss the artist.

Mails received in France from Mauritius confirm the statement that 1200 persons were killed and 4000 injured in the recent hurricane. In a magnetic disturbance preceding the blow the sea rose nine feet. A large number of leading inhabitants are among the killed. Half the sugar crop was destroyed and the planters' losses are incalculable.

CASH ABSTRACTED.

Jo. Dillon is Arrested on Suspicion of a Robbery.

A German named Schober caused a warrant to be issued this morning for the arrest of Joe Dillon, the pugilist, charging him with robbery. It appears that Schober took a notion that he would have a "time" yesterday. He filled his pockets with "stuff" and visited several saloons, finally winding up at the Royal where he made the acquaintance of Dillon. Schober was accompanied by one Schussler and a Portuguese. The two first mentioned partook of too much beer and became rolling hilarious. Dillon all the time encouraging the duet. Finally Schober felt his knees weaken and he remembered no more. When he awoke he felt in his pockets and found his money gone. This morning he met Schussler and by persistent questioning fixed a suspicion on Dillon, with the result that the pugilist was arrested by Louis Toussaint, a special officer. Bail was fixed at $250.

JUST THINK

When in need of SOAP that you will be better suited every way by going to a store that keeps a large assortment of the article required.

We believe it may interest you to know that this store is that place. This week we call your attention to a new soap in this market. As the manufacturers have not been in business for centuries they are willing to part with their products for less money than old soap houses, and you receive the benefit.

Jas. S. Kirk & Co. are striving to make as good an article as the other soap makers and their Shandon Bell soap is equal to the best. These cuts do not represent the size of the cakes, but the difference is in the price.

The store that sells the best soap will sell the most soap. You are a judge of good soap.
